Catalogue Listing of Postcards

Fig.1 Stamp Types

Notes

Size

Variations of a few mm from listed sizes can be expected on all issues. Some early cards, notably PC2, PC3 and PC3b were sometimes sold as uncut sheetlets, and a greater variation can be found.

The greatest variations can be found in PC13 and PC16. These cards were both intended for international use, but were both far larger than UPU regulations permitted. Some cards were guillotined to correct size by the post office, and others evidently at point of sale or by users (sometimes rather crudely). Thus a wide variation of sizes between 163×90 (issued size) and 140×90 (UPU regulations) may be found.

Prices

PC2

Three dashes (---) indicates not known to exist.

Prices for view cards (PC19 onwards) are based on the assumption that all designs are of roughly equal scarcity. Two notable exceptions are discussed under PC19a.

For reply cards, two prices are given o) for outward use of card and r) for correct use of reply card. Used reply cards for international destinations are notably scarce.
